NEWS AND GOSSIP.

20 The Liberia (Africa) Star of Liberty demolishes a cotemporary in the following vig-orous style: "The editor of the Herald is like a maddened bull-reckless, furious and desper-ate. Not even is the family circle sacred nor the grave free from his pollution; but with unhallowed hands he has descended into the sanctity of the tomb to vent his malice on the vent his malice on the living, is decidedly rich. Shine on, bright star !

John S. Bosher, Secretary of the Richmond, Va., Fire Association, has defaulted to a large amount—twenty five thousand dollars it is reported. He also defaulted for seven hundred dollars belonging to the "Amicable Society," and fifteen hundred dollars belonging to the Lynchburg Hose Company. It was all lest, in a short time, at the gambling table. He entailed ruin on his family, himself and friends, and fled.

23 J. J. Courtney, Deputy United States Marshal of the District of Texas, was recently killed in the town of Birdville, in that State, by Colonel A. G. Walker, editor of the Bird-ville Union. The immediate cause of the difwas the result of a political discussion, but there had been an old quarrel between them. Colonel Walker was held to bail in the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, which he promptly gave.

A friend from the South called at our office yesterday morning and placed in our hands New Orleans papers of Monday last. hands He left that city on the evening of Monday, and coming by the Tennessee route reached here in three days and twenty hours, a part of the journey performed, too, by stage-coach. We could hardly have believed in such expedition but on positive evidence .- Nat. Intel-

The Martinsburg Republican states that a duel was prevented last week between Andrew E. Kennedy, Esq., of Charlestown, Va., and Mr. Randolph, of Clark County, Va., by the arrest of the parties, who were held in $4,000 bail to keep the peace. A lady was the cause of the difficulty.

A building, four hundred feet square and forty feet from the base to the roof, has been erected in Houston, Texas, constructed of a material which is composed of sand, shells and cement, which forms a wall of solidity equal to stone. It looks as solid and durable as if made of granite, and costs less than if constructed of wood.

The Mechanics' Hall in Norfolk, Virginia, destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, was one of the finest in the country. It was erected in 1850, after the Tudor gothic style, and covered an area of 5,670 square feet. A. new hall will be built immediately.

RASPHERRIES AND JAM .- Lake Superior is famous for jam as well as fish. In 1855 some four hundred pounds of raspberry jam were manufactured in Chippewa County, as an experiment, and the article now finds a ready market East and West. The different makers at Sugar Island, Sant Village and Indian Mission, the past August, put up thirty-one thousand and four hundred pounds, which sold readily for fifteen, eighteen and twenty cents per pound, and the manufacture still continues. The berries are mostly picked by Chippewa women, and are brought in in baskets containing sixteen pounds, for which they receive a dollar, or six cents per pound. The Lake Superior Journal says it is not uncommon for a mother and two or three children to come in at night with three or four baskets.

The great fire that raged through the Lake Superior country in 1846 cleared off thousands acres of heretofore impenetrable forests, and at the same time converted them into beautiful raspberry plantations, that produce, many of them, at the rate of from four to six hundred weight of berries to the acre, and were there sufficiency of harvesters, the business could be extended to an almost indefinite extent.

SAVE THE VEGETABLE SEEDS .- Many are annually wasted from not being gathered at the right time. They are left till a convenient season, and then one "job" is made of it. In this way, as they do not ripen at the same time, the first matured and most expectations. valuable are lost, and many are teken while yet green and worthless. The garden should be visited every day from the first ripening, and the mature heads collected, the stalks being severed with a sharp knife or shears. Sheets or newspapers may be spread upon the floor of a chamber or garret, and the different kinds laid separately upon them. When the gathering is completed, and the seeds have thoroughly dried, rub them out, clean them, and put them in bags of cloth or paper. Each parcel should be distinctly labeled with the name and the year when gathered. Many vexatious mistakes will thus be avoided next spring. All seeds for future planting should be kept as far as pos-sible from heat, moisture and light. Their vitality will be impaired, if not destroyed, by carelessness in this respect. Tin cases, glass jars, or even tight wooden boxes, are preferable to leaving them loose in the "closet."

Espionage at Home and Abroad. A statement has been going the circuit of the papers that since Napoleon III has declared a general amnesty to all political offenders, the system of espionage is as rife as ever in France; in short, that there is a policeman in almost every house; and people here are correspond-ingly shocked at this fact. Do they not know that a system of espionage just as despotic and perhaps more potent is exercised at our own doors, of which they never think of complaining? By means of the mercantile agencies the spy-system is ramified throughout the whole country, the most secret actions of men, not alone in mercantile matters, but in the private life of the merchant himself, are recorded on the books of those agencies, and open to the inspection of whoever pays for the privilege. If a merchant in New York is about to sell a bill of goods to a merchant in Skunk Hollow, Arkansas, he goes first to the agency, and says, 'I want to sell to John Smith, of Skunk Hollow, Arkansas; what do you know about him?" The clerk who has charge of that zone of country is called, he refers to his book, and the private life of poor John Smith is laid open to the eyes of the inquirer. He is told when and to whom he was married; how much money he got with his wife; whether they live happily together; how many children he has; whether he gives parties, drinks champagne or confines himself to "red-eye," and when he played the last game of whist or euchre. Now, how all the information on these subjects came to be known in New York, except by means of the most rigid espionage, is a problem. Yet the facts are recorded here, and they are generally, if not always, correct. The espionage of the living." The Ailanthus. The Philadelphia Bulletin says of the ailanthus: The ailanthus grows with such extraordi nary rapidity that it is safe to say that it gives more wood in one-third of the time than any tree generally used for fuel. And though it grows so quickly, it is firm, hard, strong and durable wood, nearly as valuable as locust, and making excellent fuel. As for soil and culture, it grows in the most deso-late sands of New Jersey like a young bay tree, a single wheelbarrow-load of loam to each tree being all the capital which it requires to resist the most untoward influences. It endures heat and cold; it will grow where a blackberry vine would think twice before it would sprout once, and is never touched How many of our readers own thousands of acres, now worthless? Let them plant ailanthus, which grows easily from the seed, and wait only ten years.

FIFTEEN SHIPS TO THE MILE. - Since the completion of the Great Eastern, inquiries have been rife as to the dimensions of all the large ships in the world. The Adriatic, Niagara, Great Republic and Pennsylvania are

THE SIGNERS OF THE DECLARATION OF INDE PENDENCE.—The committee of plans for the monument to the signers of the Declaration was one hundred and two years of age some of Independence, to be erected in Independence time last month. He was for twenty-five ence Square, Philadelphia, have decided to years the slave of the late James L. Craig, and was raised on the "Court-house Point" farm in be addressed to all architects and artists throughout the United States, setting forth that all plans sent in for the approbation of the committee must be drawn upon sheets of paper two feet square, on the scale of four feet to the inch, providing a base sixty feet in diameter, having thirteen sides, and in each side a niche or entablature containing some device representative of each of the thirteen States, a shaft or column over all. The plans are to be sent in to A. G. Waterman, Esq., Philadelphia, on or before the ist of January, 1860. The committee have resolved to award for the best plan, which will be adopted, $300; second best, $200.

A Useful Chinoline.—A gentleman, whose attention was attracted by the suspicious locomotion of a woman passing from the store of one of the Alexandria merchants yester-day, descried the end of a piece of bacon projecting below her dress. The merchant stated, on inquiry, that he had sold her none. The woman was thereupon brought back, and charged with the theft, and, although her proportions were undisturbed, and indicated nothing wrong, except the ridiculous fashion, yet the sequal proved that she had concealed beneath her crinoline a side of bacon, which weighed thirty-five pounds! The charity of the ucerchant, like the crinoline of the culprit, covered her sin, and she was told to go an I offend no more .- Washington States.

CULTIVATION OF POLISH WHEAT IN TEXAS. A letter has recently been received at the agricultural division of the United States atent Office from a planter in the southern part of Texas, in which the writer speaks in the highest terms of the Polish wheat or Gant rye, of which he has commenced the cultivation, and says that he has every rea son to believe that it will yield upward of seventy-five bushels to the acre. Its cultivation, he thinks, will add immensely to the agricultural interests of Texas. The success which has attended the cultivation of bald

WHAT A WIFE SHOULD BE .- Says un old author: "A good wife should be like three things, which three things she should not be like. First, she should be like a snail, always keep within her house; but she should not be like a snail, to carry all she has upon her back. Secondly, she should be like an echo, speak when she is spoken to; but she should not be like an echo, always to have the last word. Thirdly, she should be like a town-clock, always keep time and regularity; but she should not be like a town-clock, to speak so loud that all the town may hear her."

How to Live Long .- More people die annually from a want of sufficient brain-work than from an excess of it. Good health of body and mind depends upon each having its full share of exercise and work, and it would seem from history that we can better afford the body to be in a state of lassitude than allow the intellectual powers to lie dormant. There may be a physical cause for this, from the fact that much thought induces a temper-ate life; but the exceptions to such a rule would be found so enormous as to show that it was not the only secret. We are rather in-clined to think that the most general rule and the one capable of the broadest application by which to attain to that great desideratum-"a green old age"-is to give the mind full play to expand the powers of thought by reading and observation, and to banish the fear of death, resulting from an exhausted "knowledge-box." We have shown to what ages the philosophers lived, and many modern ones have been equally long-lived. Galileo and Roger Bacon both lived to seventy-eight, Buffon died at eighty-one, Goethe and West were eighty-two, Franklin and Herschel lived to eighty-four, and Newton and Voltaire did not unish their labors until eighty five. The astonomer Halley was eighty-six at his de-cease, and Sir Hans Soane was ninety-three. Michel Angelo and Titian, the great masters of art, lived to ninety-six. These, surely, are instances enough to stimulate the individual that wishes to live long, not to forget to cultivate the intellectual faculties and imagination while he is attending to the physical aids of exercise, cleanliness and temperance. We all think too much of the body and neglect the higher and diviner parts within us; we cleanso the temple and adorn its pillars, but we for-get that the dweller therein also requires attention and care .- Scientific American.

CURRENCY OF RUSSIA .- The gold and silver of Russia is of the purest quality, and their coin is exquisitely cut and very chaste. Their paper circulating medium is the issue of the National Bank at St. Petersburg. The rouble, which I believe is the largest of their silver pieces, is equal in value to sev-enty-five cents of our money; it is divided into parts by copeeks, one hundred of which make a rouble, the smallest silver coin being five copeeks. Their copper coin varies in denomination from one quarter of a copeckthree-sixteenth of a cent-to a five-copeek piece. While a copper to us is but a tritle, and the term is often used to express something small, the comfort, if not the very existence, of thousands of the poor laboring classes in Russia depend upon an abundant circulation of copper money; it is almost the only money which many receive in reward for their labor, and were it to be withdrawn from circulation in large quantities, such withdrawal would be followed by marked evidences of want among the large class with whom it is the principal if not the only medium of axchange.

TREMENDOUS WHALK .- The Helifax Journal tells the following whale story:

A La Havre craft, on her return trip from the Labrador, not very well fished, had the good fortune to fall in with a large dead whale drifting about, which the fishermen speedily made fast to, and commenced stripping off and trying out the oil. When they had filled every vessel available on board, a second Nova Scotiaman came up, turned to and made a good harvest also. By this time the whole of one side of the leviathan was used up. At this period a Frenchman hove in sight, and soon came alongside, but the united efforts of the hands on board the three vessels failed to capsize the carcase, and the remainder was finally disposed of by the original discoverer to Johnny Crapaud for the sum of £7, to do with the whale what he best could. The La Havre men left the Frenchman, who had taken his prize in tow, making for the nearest land.

AND STILL PROPIE USE IT.—A Mrs. Pascall and daughter, of New York—one 59, the other 25—were pouring camphene into the previces of a bedstead to destroy vermin. A ighted lamp was near, and the camphene miting the can, burst, scattering the liquid death all around, setting the clothing of both on fire, and also the furniture of the Mrs. Pascall, in her fright, got out of the sec-ond-story window, and clung with her hands to the sill until she was rescued by a gentle-man who was passing by. Miss Pascall ran down stairs and fell insensible in the ballway, where she was discovered, terribly burned. The faces of both women were completely charred, and their tertures were ex-cruciating until death relieved them.

THE GREAT EASTERN .- Wo learn that Mr. J. Scott Russell, the builder of the Great Eastern, is to come out in her on her first trip to Americs. Great numbers of tickets have been sold. and for her trial trip to Cherbe urg, which was to take place on the 8th, an inimense number of places had been taken. If that proves entirely successful, she will come to this country with an enormous number of passengers. She comes to Portland first, in con sequence of an old contract with the Grand Trunk Railroad Company to that effect; but she will be very likly to go from Portland to New York.

MEXICAN TREATY .- Minister McLane arrived in Washington Sunday, and embraced the ear-liest opportunity to inform Secretary Casa of his failure to negotiate a treaty with the Juarez Government under the instructions forwarded to him by the Administration. The clause objected to by the Mexican Government is that which provides for the landing of United States navai or military forces on the Isthmus for the protection of the Transit. Mr. McLane is of the opinion that this point will never be conceded by Mexico.

RESTORATION OF BISHOP ONDERBONK .-- A movement is on foot in New York for the restoration to office of Bishop Onderdonk. The great stambling block in the way of any measures looking toward the restoration hitherto has been removed—the Bishop having signed a paper in which, after sequitting his brethren of improper motives in his conviction, acknowledging the justice of their act of disci pline, and professing his sincere sorrow and repentance, he asks that his sentence may be

THE MORMONS.-It is said that the Mormons have fixed upon Papau, New Guinea, as their future residence, and are collecting ships to transport them thither. Papau is an extonsive island of the Eastern Archipollago, separated from Australia by Torres Straits. It has been but little explored by Europeans. The inhabitants, who are supposed to number two hundred thousand, are partly Malay and partly negro. Its area is estimated at two hundred thousand square miles. Its surface is of a very varied character, a lofty mountain range, containing some remarkable elevations extending through its whole length. The valleys and level land are believed to be very productive, and timber of large size abounds. It is also said that gold has been found by the
